

In This Issue (click on a button or heading to jump to that section) EPS News We look forward to the time when the Power of Love will replace the Love of Power. Then will our world know the blessings of peace. In Other News Food for Thought Funding and Employment Opportunities EPS Publications Action Corner Upcoming Events How Can I Help? EPS News Please join us for the next EPS Bernard Schwartz Symposium - Jobs, Investment and Energy: Meeting President Obama's Challenge Tuesday, March 23 in Washington DC, 9:00am - 2:00pm. For more information, visit our website. Please contact Thea Harvey, to register.
We look forward to the time when the Power of Love will replace the Love of Power. Then will our world know the blessings of peace. In Other News Food for Thought Funding and Employment Opportunities EPS Publications Action Corner Upcoming Events How Can I Help? EPS News Please join us for the next EPS Bernard Schwartz Symposium - Jobs, Investment and Energy: Meeting President Obama's Challenge Tuesday, March 23 in Washington DC, 9:00am - 2:00pm.	In This Issue (click on a button or heading to jump to that section)
Links will our world know the blessings of peace. In Other News -William Gladstone (1809-1898) Food for Thought Funding and Employment Opportunities EPS Publications Action Corner Upcoming Events How Can I Help? EPS News Please join us for the next EPS Bernard Schwartz Symposium - Jobs, Investment and Energy: Meeting President Obama's Challenge Tuesday, March 23 in Washington DC, 9:00am - 2:00pm.		EPS News
Food for Thought Funding and Employment Opportunities EPS Publications Action Corner Upcoming Events How Can I Help? EPS News Please join us for the next EPS Bernard Schwartz Symposium - Jobs, Investment and Energy: Meeting President Obama's Challenge Tuesday, March 23 in Washington DC, 9:00am - 2:00pm.		Links
Funding and Employment Opportunities EPS Publications Action Corner Upcoming Events How Can I Help? EPS News Please join us for the next EPS Bernard Schwartz Symposium - Jobs, Investment and Energy: Meeting President Obama's Challenge Tuesday, March 23 in Washington DC, 9:00am - 2:00pm.		In Other News	~William Gladstone (1809-1898)
EPS Publications Action Corner Upcoming Events How Can I Help? EPS News Please join us for the next EPS Bernard Schwartz Symposium - Jobs, Investment and Energy: Meeting President Obama's Challenge Tuesday, March 23 in Washington DC, 9:00am - 2:00pm.		Food for Thought
Action Corner Upcoming Events How Can I Help? EPS News Please join us for the next EPS Bernard Schwartz Symposium - Jobs, Investment and Energy: Meeting President Obama's Challenge Tuesday, March 23 in Washington DC, 9:00am - 2:00pm.		Funding and Employment Opportunities
Upcoming Events How Can I Help? EPS News Please join us for the next EPS Bernard Schwartz Symposium - Jobs, Investment and Energy: Meeting President Obama's Challenge Tuesday, March 23 in Washington DC, 9:00am - 2:00pm.		EPS Publications
How Can I Help? EPS News Please join us for the next EPS Bernard Schwartz Symposium - Jobs, Investment and Energy: Meeting President Obama's Challenge Tuesday, March 23 in Washington DC, 9:00am - 2:00pm.		Action Corner
EPS News Please join us for the next EPS Bernard Schwartz Symposium - Jobs, Investment and Energy: Meeting President Obama's Challenge Tuesday, March 23 in Washington DC, 9:00am - 2:00pm.		Upcoming Events
Please join us for the next EPS Bernard Schwartz Symposium - Jobs, Investment and Energy: Meeting President Obama's Challenge Tuesday, March 23 in Washington DC, 9:00am - 2:00pm.		How Can I Help?
Meeting President Obama's Challenge Tuesday, March 23 in Washington DC, 9:00am - 2:00pm.	EPS News
To more information, there our tropers. It toube contact threatharte , to register EPS US and UK affiliates, Izmir University of Economics, Middle East Technical University (METU), and University of the West of England, Bristol are pleased to announce the call for papers for the 14th Annual International Conference on Economics and Security. The conference will take place June 17 and 18, 2010 in Izmir, Turkey.

world to share ideas and discuss the future developments in the following areas:

- Security in the Balkan Region
- European security
- Economics of security
- Globalization and the restructuring of the MIC
- Militarism and development
- Security sector reform
- · Economics of conflict and war
- Economics of post-conflict reconstruction
- · Economics of arms procurement, trade and offsets
- · Arms races and alliances
- Peace science
- Conversion and demilitarization
- Economics of terrorism

You are cordially invited to submit abstracts and papers on these topics. Offers of papers on other related topics are also welcome. If you are interested in presenting a paper or organizing a session at the 2010 Conference, please send a title and an abstract of 300 words or less to: defence2010@ieu.edu.tr. The deadline for submission of abstracts is March 22, 2010.

More information on the conference is at http://ekolider.ieu.edu.tr/eab/DEFENCE2010/.

EPS Fellow Bill Hartung's recent letter to the editor of the New York Times, concerning why military spending should not be exempted from the budget freeze, was printeded February 9 and posted online the following day:

http://www.nytimes.com/2010/02/10/opinion/lweb10military.html?ref=opinion

February 10, 2010 Letter Cutting Defense Spending

To the Editor:

Re "Mr. Obama's New Budget" (editorial, Feb. 2):

The details of President Obama's budget underscore the fact that military spending should not be exempted from his cap on discretionary spending. At $738 billion, spending for military purposes is in a virtual tie with Social Security for the largest single item in the federal budget. Less than one-quarter of that amount is devoted to financing the wars in Iraq and Afghanistan, leaving plenty of places to cut without slowing the flow of resources to troops in the field.

Given the Pentagon's history of inefficient operations, vast cost overruns and financing for weapons systems that have no possible application to current or future conflicts, it is simply unacceptable to give it a free pass in efforts to slow the growth of federal spending.

William D. Hartung New York, Feb. 2, 2010

The writer is director of the Arms and Security Initiative at the New America Foundation.

Volume 5, No. 1 of the Economics of Peace and Security Journal is now available online. Nonsubscribers can access the abstracts and contents pages. This issue contains symposia on defense innovation and the economics of conflict:

- Scott A. Kjar and William A. Anderson on war and the Austrian School
- Peter M. Li on military alliances
- Alexandre Debs on economic theories of dictatorship
- Joel Potter and John L. Scott on issues in third-party intervention and the role of destruction in conflict
- Yang-Ming Chang, Shane Sanders, and Bhavneet Walia on conflict persistence and third-party intervention'
- C. Jill Stowe, Kate Krause, and Janie M. Chermak on preferences for privacy and security
- Neil Cooper on voluntarism, regulation, and supervision

EPS members receive a 25% discount on the annual subscription to the Economics of Peace and Security Journal. A regular one-year subscriptions is $40; for EPS members, it's only $30!

The Journal is a peer-reviewed online publication hosted by EPS-UK. Published twice yearly, it raises and debates all issues related to the political economy of personal, communal, national, international, and global peace and security. Joseph Stiglitz, James Galbraith, and Lawrence Klein have been previous contributors. The Journal's website also includes book reviews submitted by members and subscribers.

For more information about the Journal or to subscribe, see http://www.epsjournal.org.uk/.

To become a member of EPS (and to qualify for the subscription discount) visit http://www.epsusa.org/membership/membership.htm.

http://www.linkedin.com/groups? gid=2009987&trk=anetsrch_name&goback=.gdr_1263369639671_1.
Join us on Facebook. Become a fan and keep up with our latest activities and upcoming events at http://www.facebook.com/pages/Economists-for-Peace-and-Security/114370951337 .

back to top

Links

The Project on Defense Alternatives has recently released two reports on US defense budget and strategy issues. You can find both documents as well as an Executive Summary and a press release here: http://www.comw.org/pda/budgetreview2010.html.

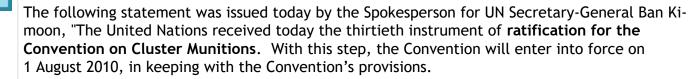

1. An Undisciplined Defense: Understanding the $2 Trillion Surge in US Defense Spending
The allocation of Pentagon funds has changed fundamentally over the past decade. And with it, the contours (and price) of American military power have changed. This report analyzes the unprecedented post-1998 rise in US defense spending, the return to Cold War budget levels, and likely future trends in Pentagon spending. It asks," Why should defense be as expensive today as during the Cold War?" and also, "Why are today's wars so comparatively expensive?" Among the 'cost drivers' that it finds are overly ambitious US military strategies; a shortfall in efforts to streamline the Pentagon and achieve military transformation; a failure to set strong priorities and make hard choices in military acquisition; and, the conduct of wars ill-suited to the US military.
Also assessed are the surge in military construction and the dramatically expanded role of private contractors. 75 pages including short Executive Summary and 21 charts and tables.

2. The President's Dilemma: Debt, Deficits, and Defense Spending

The nation faces years of Reagan-level deficit spending and greatly increased debt. Can the president's program of high defense spending and increased non-defense spending survive? What about other urgent national priorities? This brief report puts recent and planned defense spending into the context of emerging fiscal constraints and the President's broader program of change. 8 pages with 11 charts and tables.

back to top

In Other News

"The Secretary-General welcomes this major advance on the global disarmament agenda, and notes that the Convention's entry into force just two years after its adoption demonstrates the world's collective revulsion at the impact of these terrible weapons.

"Cluster munitions are unreliable and inaccurate. During conflict and long after it has ended, they maim and kill scores of civilians, including many children. They impair post-conflict recovery by making roads and land inaccessible to farmers and aid workers.

"The United Nations is firmly committed to ending the use, stockpiling, production and transfer of cluster munitions and mitigating the suffering they cause. The Secretary-General calls on all States to become a party to the Convention without delay."

The newly formed World Peace Academy (WPA) in Basel, Switzerland announces a program leading to a Master of Advanced Studies in Peace and Conflict Transformation. Students from all over the world, from any discipline interested in peace and conflict resolution, including young diplomats, government officials, NGO members, teachers, journalists, lawyers, social workers, officers, psychologists, artists, and anyone interested in solving conflicts by peaceful means are invited to attend.

Complete details are at http://www.world-peace-academy.ch/?lang=en&pid=43

Peace Economics, Peace Science and Public Policy, a journal from the Berkeley Electronic Press edited by EPS members Walter Isard and Raul Caruso, announces its latest issue. Articles include:

- Labor Market Conditions, Political Events, and Palestinian Suicide Bombings
 Edward A. Sayre
- Politics of Defense Spending and Endogenous Inequality
 Partha Gangopadhyay and Nasser Elkanj
- Atoms for Peace, Redux: Energy Codependency for Sustained Cooperation on the Korean Peninsula

Kyle Beardsley and Jamus J. Lim

• Beyond Moral Hazard: The Effect of Firm-Level Compensation Strategies on Economic Conflict

Veneta Andonova and Hernando Zuleta

- Warfare, Civil Conflict and the Spatial Impacts on Domestic Investment: Evidence from South America, 1950-2000
 Michael J. Hicks and Jeff Smith
- Impact of War on Country per Capita GDP: A Descriptive Analysis 13
 Daria Sevastianova

http://www.bepress.com/peps/

Proposals received after February 15, 2010 will be considered if any presentation slots are still available. The complete call for papers is at http://www.europeanpeacescientists.org/jantinbergen_call.pdf.

Those who are interested in participating should submit their proposal (abstract, tentative title, author name(s) and affiliation(s)) either in a word document or in a plain text e-mail to the following address: conference@europeanpeacescientists.org. Participation fee will be 80 euros for senior researchers and 50 euros for PhD students. Fees also include annual membership in NEPS.

Request for submissions: The book series Contributions to Conflict Management, Peace Economics and Development now totals 15 volumes. The series, published by Emerald Publishing, UK, presents theoretical and empirical papers on conflict and peace related to economic, social and political development, primarily of the developing countries. For information about the series, visit http://info.emeraldinsight.com/products/books/series.htm?id=1572-8323.

EPS Fellow Manas Chatterji is General Editor. Colleagues interested in submitting a manuscript for possible publication are requested to contact him at mchatter@binghamton.edu.

Call for Papers and Sessions: Society for the Advancement of Socio-Economics 22nd Annual Conference, June 24 — 26, 2010 in Philadelphia, PA.

This year's conference, Governance Across Borders: Coordination, Regulation, and Contestation in the Global Economy, focuses on the development, dynamics, impact, and implications of emerging forms of transnational governance in the global economy - public, private, and hybrid. SASE offers special reduced rates to students for both membership and conference fees.

http://www.allacademic.com/one/sase/sase10/files/2010 Call for Papers.pdf.

Request for submissions: Peace Economics, Peace Science and Public Policy, a journal founded by Walter Isard and published by Bepress, is launching a new policy. In order to improve scientific communication within the field of Peace Science and Peace Economics, PEPS will publish "Letters" to provide accounts of new original research. Letters will not normally exceed 2,000 words in length, exclusive of equations, graphs, and figures. Letters can be either theoretical or applied, and will be subject to the peer-review process.

For more information, please visit www.bepress.com/peps.

had	٠ - ١	-	+~
paci	ĸ	ιυ	το	Ļ

Food for Thought

Budgets Reveal What We Value, a letter to the editor published February 8 in the Albany (NY) Times Union:

"The Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. warned that a nation that spends more on war than on meeting human needs is approaching spiritual death. On February 1, the Obama administration requested $708 billion for the Defense Department next year, including $549 billion for its base budget and $159 billion for the wars in Afghanistan and Iraq.

"Factoring in outlays for veterans' health and other benefits, the replenishment of military hardware and the interest on debt incurred by the wars, the total cost of the two wars will be 'significantly more' than $3 trillion, says Linda Bilmes, a Harvard University economist. She and her co-author, Joseph Stiglitz, a Columbia University economist and Nobel Prize laureate, estimated this in their 2008 best-seller, 'The Three Trillion Dollar War.' Adding in some social costs, they put a moderately realistic price tag on the two wars of $5 trillion.

"It seems that we always find money to keep the machinery of war oiled at the expense of programs for social uplift, health care, education and housing. Budgets are moral documents; they reveal what we truly value. It is obvious we value funding perpetual war more than enhancing programs for life."

THE REV. RICH BRODERICK Cambridge

See the article online: http://www.timesunion.com/AspStories/story.asp?

newsdate=2/7/2010&navigation=nextprior&

category=OPINION&storyID=898231

Christopher Preble and Heather Hurlburt also wrote about excepting the defense budget from the government spending freeze. They contend, "The media and politicians have made an expanding military budget into a manhood test for civilian leaders. But a real test of a leader's wisdom and strength would recognize that more spending does not equal greater security."

http://dyn.politico.com/printstory.cfm?uuid=957830F1-18FE-70B2-A8FFCEC7E0CB1A22

How to keep the momentum going with press attention and donations to Haiti? Barry Lando has a modest proposal to solve the problem: "We close down our regular programs, our school lunches, and mango seed development and well-drilling and free dental clinics. Instead we launch Al Qaeda in Haiti.

"We get a couple of hundred of the millions of young Haitians desperate for any way out of their poverty; we import a couple of fire-breathing radical Muslims to give appropriate cover to the operation; we give our Haitians a few weeks of clandestine training, and then we're ready. Indeed, we may already have fertile fodder in-country, saving us the expense of importing talent: Haiti already has 3250 Muslims...

"There results are obvious: The US media descend again en masse. The original skeptical reports give way to shock, alarums, and calls for the American president to act. We're no longer talking about the threat from radical Islam in far-off Afghanistan. It's here, at our doorstep! "Thousands of American troops [have] found a new front in the War against Terror. They'll be pouring billions into Haiti— training and equipping a brand new Haitian army and police force, educating civil servants, building new roads and bridges, and power stations, working with every local community organization they can lay their hands on." http://blogs.alternet.org/barrylando/2010/02/01/haiti-and-al-gaeda-a-modest-proposal/ back to top Funding and Employment Opportunities The Joan B. Kroc School of Peace Studies, the first US school created in this field, welcomes applications for a faculty position in HUMAN SECURITY AND PEACEBUILDING to begin September 2010. The opening in human security and peacebuilding is a full-time tenure track position at the rank of Assistant, Associate or Full Professor. In addition to a commitment to teaching, the successful candidate will have a PhD in hand at the time of appointment and will be expected to have a well-articulated research agenda, advise students and serve as part of a team developing the new School of Peace Studies. Application reviews will begin on March 1, 2010 and continue until the position is filled. For more information: http://api.ning.com/files/idbqfRXAr1Lf-AnpewTC8xlGlz3ggkBa6hXy- mBmuk0c*sV08UXQ06ewznkl1EF5zMKM9Z0AaeZFFtVJPpEkNFX0kc9Xs66a/HumanSecurity.pdf The Partnership for Democratic Governance (PDG), a division of the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD), is seeking a Technical Advisor — Post-Conflict and Fragility. Job duties include service delivery and contracting-out in post-conflict and fragile countries; intellectual leadership into the PDG's research agenda; and documenting and synthesizing findings and developing best practices on collaboration among donor countries and organizations in improving core government functions in emerging democracies and fragile states. More information at http://erecruit1.oecd.org/psc/ERECRUIT/EMPLOYEE/HRMS/c/HRS_HRAM.HRS_CE.GBL. Research Funding: The Center for International Strategy, Technology, and Policy at Georgia Tech, in conjunction with the James Martin Center for Nonproliferation Studies, is seeking applications from junior faculty, post-doctoral and doctoral candidates working on maintenance of strategic stability under reduced or eliminated nuclear arsenals for its Program on Strategic Stability Evaluation (POSSE). At this time, expertise on the issue as it relates to Chinese, Russian, or American arsenals is particular desirable. This project is funded by the Carnegie Corporation of New York to forge an interdisciplinary network of young scholars on the subject, and to facilitate related research. More complete information is at http://cns.miis.edu/activities/pdfs/pr090912 posse applications.pdf. Job Opening: Georgetown University's MA Program in Conflict Resolution invites applications for a one-year (10 month) full-time contract Visiting Assistant Professor Position for the 2010-2011 academic year.

The Conflict Resolution program is housed in the Department of Government. The CR program offers an innovative and rigorous curriculum encompassing the core skills and multi-disciplinary knowledge needed to successfully pursue diverse career opportunities, both in the US and abroad, related to conflict management and conflict resolution.

Qualifications: Candidates should be qualified to teach courses in conflict resolution theory and research methodology, in addition to one or more specialized areas such as health, youth, law, international development, gender, media, and education. Regional specialization is open and applicants with a domestic focus are encouraged to apply. Successful candidates must have a PhD in Conflict Resolution or related field, along with teaching experience and a record of publications. Candidates with direct applied experience in the conflict resolution field are preferred.

Responsibilities: The successful candidate will maintain a 2/3 teaching load, advise students, supervise students' internships and theses, assist with program development, and pursue other related activities.

More information at http://www1.georgetown.edu/departments/government/conflictresolution/83179.html.

back to top

EPS Publications and Resources

A conference entitled The Financial Crisis, the US Economy, and International Security in the New Administration was held at the Schwartz Center for Economic Policy Analysis, New School University, New York, New York on Friday, November 14, 2008. The conference was organized by Economists for Peace and Security, the Charles Leopold Mayer Foundation Initiative for Rethinking the Economy, and the Levy Economics Institute of Bard College. See video or read transcripts from the conference by visiting https://www.epsusa.org/events/08conf/program.htm.

The Initiative for Rethinking the Economy also has a webpage devoted the conference at http://www.i-r-e.org/article50.html.

Space, Security and the Economy, a report on the Bush administration's outer space policy, warns that the present policy of space dominance could transform outer space into a military battleground.

Official US policy asserts the right to deny any nation access to space if its actions are "perceived" as hostile. This policy, together with other US actions such as withdrawal from the ABM treaty and the ongoing development of weapons intended to attack objects in space, could lead to the deployment of weapons in space. If the US were to deploy such weapons in space, other nations would likely follow, leading to an arms race in space.

Consequences would include negative effects on the growing scientific and commercial uses of space, and on the economy. In particular, private investors would be unlikely to place additional resources at risk in a vulnerable area of potential military conflict. The report concludes that no one can prevail, and all stand to lose, in an arms race in space.

The report calls for changes in the policy of space dominance, greater transparency in military space spending, and detailed information about government and commercial space activities. To view a PDF of the report, visit http://www.epsusa.org/publications/papers/spacesecurity.pdf. To request a hard copy, please email Thea Harvey theaharvey@epsusa.org. Read YubaNet's blog about the report: http://yubanet.com/usa/Report-Economic-Impact-of-Arms- Race-in-Space.php. Proceedings from the EPS conference War and Poverty, Peace and Prosperity, held May 30 — June 1, 2007 in Annandale-on-Hudson, NY, are available in hard copy or PDF. Audio and transcripts of each session are also posted on our website. To request a hard copy, please email Thea Harvey at theaharvey@epsusa.org. "Arms, War and Terrorism in the Global Economy Today: Economic Analyses and Civilian Alternatives" is a volume published by Bremer Schriften zur Konversion. It presents papers of two joint seminars of EPS and the European Association for Evolutionary Political Economy (EAEPE), which took place in Rethymon, Crete, Greece, as well as papers from the 2004 Second International Conference on Defense, Security, and Economic Development held in Larissa, Greece. Contributing authors include Michael Intriligator, Fannie Coulomb, Jacques Fontanel, Jurgen Brauer, Gulay Gunluk-Senesen, J. Paul Dunne, Luc Mampaey, Claude Serfati, Christos Kollias, Clark Abt, and Lucy Law Webster, as well as many other notable economists. The book is available from the publishers, LIT Verlag, for €24.90 at http://www.lit- verlag.de/isbn/3-8258-0045-1. Fact Sheets: Periodically, EPS releases two-sided fact sheets designed to give an accessible, graphic look at one specific issue of concern to our members and constituency. Global Arms Trade 2004 examines the world's supplies of conventional weapons and small arms. http://www.epsusa.org/publications/factsheets/globalarmstrade.pdf. Military vs. Social Spending: Warfare or Human Welfare compares US and global military spending with the costs of achieving the UN Millennium Development Goals. http://www.epsusa.org/publications/factsheets/milexMDG.pdf. Conflict or Development? This book has a regional focus on Africa, site of most of the world's current armed conflicts. Some of the leading economists of the day analyze and reflect on the relationships among military spending, domestic and foreign policy, security, and human welfare. Conflict or Development features country studies, sections on business and conflict, and trends in world military expenditure. Written in a general-interest style, with informative maps, tables, and graphs, the series is designed to inform the debate among policymakers, activists, journalists, academics, students, and citizens worldwide. To order, email Thea Harvey at theaharvey@epsusa.org.

Conflict or Development is also a valuable resource in teaching economics, political science, and international relations courses. To review a copy for use in your syllabus, email Thea Harvey at theaharvey@epsusa.org.

	The Full Cost of Ballistic Missile Defense. This study estimates that the total life cycle cost for a layered missile defense system could reach $1.2 trillion through 2035. Download the PDF file from http://www.epsusa.org/publications/papers/bmd/bmd.pdf , or order a copy of the report from the cosponsor of the study at http://www.armscontrolcenter.org/nmd/fullcost.html .
	 Data Resource webpage offers links to data sources for: International military expenditure and conflict indicators US military expenditure and capabilities Western Europe Russia These sources are available at http://www.epsusa.org/network/data.htm. If there is a data source you would like to see included, contact Thea Harvey at theaharvey@epsusa.org.
	back to top
Acti	on Corner
	Want to get the word out on the topic that matters most to you? With a letter to your local paper, you can help bring your message not only to your neighbors but directly to the offices of your Members of Congress, where staffers and our lawmakers themselves follow opinions from home with an especially watchful eye. The ACLU has a tool that helps write and send letters to local papers. They offer a list of media outlets by state, with tips on how to write a letter in your own words, plus talking points for the listed topics. http://action.aclu.org/site/PageServer?pagename=LTE_SOTU_2007&JServSessionIdr001=3bu4908t91.app20a
	Do you have a foreign policy alternative that should be heard in the halls of government? Citizens for Global Solutions provides an easy-to-use tool to find the foreign policy staffer for your Member of Congress. To access the Foreign Policy Staffer Locator, go to http://globalsolutions.org/hill/fpstaff .
	If you would like to post an EPS flyer on a departmental bulletin board or similar venue, please contact Thea Harvey at theaharvey@epsusa.org .
	back to top
Upc	oming Events
	February 26 — 28, 2010. The Eastern Economic Association annual meeting in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. Abstracts and paper submissions should be submitted online by visiting the Association's conference homepage located at www.ramapo.edu/eea/2010 .

	March 23, 2010. EPS Bernard Schwartz Symposium Jobs, Investment and Energy: Meeting President Obama's Challenge at the Ronald Reagan Building in Washington DC, 9:00am - 2:00pm. For more information, visit our website . Please contact Thea Harvey to register.
	June 3 $-$ 5, 2010. The International Confederation of Associations for Pluralism in Economics (ICAPE) 3rd International Conference: "Failing Economies, Failing Economics: Rebooting Economics after the Crash" at Western New England College, Springfield, Massachusetts. More information at http://www.icape.org/ .
	June 17 — 18, 2010. 14th Annual International Conference on Economics and Security sponsored by EPS-UK, Izmir University of Economics, Middle East Technical University (METU), and University of the West of England, Bristol. The conference will take place at Izmir University of Economics, Izmir, Turkey. Call for papers and conference information is at http://ekolider.ieu.edu.tr/eab/DEFENCE2010/ .
	June 24 — 26, 2010. The Society for the Advancement of Socio-Economics (SASE) 22nd Annual Meeting will take place at Temple University, Philadelphia, PA. The theme is Governance Across Borders: Coordination, Regulation, and Contestation in the Global Economy . Submissions for papers or organized sessions are now open at http://convention3.allacademic.com/one/sase/sase10/ . Deadline for submissions is February 28, 2010.
	June 28 — 30, 2010. 10th Jan Tinbergen European Peace Science Conference organized by the Network of European Peace Scientists in Amsterdam at the Tinbergen Institute, Roeterstraat 31, 1018 WB Amsterdam, the Netherlands. More information at http://www.europeanpeacescientists.org/jtinbergen.html
	June 29 — July 3, 2010. 85th Annual Conference of the Western Economic Association International in Portland, Oregon. More information at: http://www.weainternational.org/conferences.htm .
	back to top
How	Can I Help?
	Become a member of EPS. Your annual membership entitles you to discounts on publications, invitations to events, our informative newsletters, and more. Most importantly, by joining us you help to ensure that reasoned perspectives on essential economic issues continue to be heard. Membership dues and other donations are fully tax-deductible. Visit http://www.epsusa.org/membership/membership.htm for more information.
	If you have enjoyed this issue of EPS NewsNotes and wish to support our mission, please consider donating to EPS. You can do so securely online through our website or by sending a check to: Economists for Peace and Security at the Levy Economics Institute Box 5000 Annandale on Hudson, NY 12504 USA Questions? Call (845) 758-0917, or email info@epsusa.org .

